REDFERN SHORT OF WEIGHT.

FINED $200 AND WILD THYME DISQUALIFIED.

Bostand Takes Choice Stakes-Wotan Wins Two-Year-Old Handleap-Four Favorites and Two Second Choices in Pront at Brighton-Entries for to-day.

Four favorites and two second choices made things decidedly uncomfortable for the book-makers at Brighton Beach yesterday afternoon as all six winners carried a wealth of backing. The weather had the first tinge of winter, and at times a drizzle fell from clouds that made it a difficult matter to discern the colors of the jockeys as they rushed up the backstretch. In spite of the weather, however, probably 6,000 people went to the track, as the card, in spite of big fields, seemed easy to solve.

The Choice Stakes, for three-year-olds, at a mile and a furiong, was limited to four starters. Rostand ruling an odds on favorite at 15 to 20, with Andrew Miller's Wild Thyme backed down to 3 to 2. Gold Bell, the rank outsider. tried to make a runaway race of it, but exploded on the upper turn. Then Odom went to the front with Rostand, but as Wild Thyme made a gallant bid for victory in the stretch, Odem was forced to ride the favorite with all of his well known energy to win by a length in 136 2-5. When Redfern got on the scales it was found that he was three pounds short of weight. The clerk of the scales took him to the weighing room, where there was still a discrepancy of two and a half pounds. As a result the stewards disqualifled Wild Thyme, placing Father Bill Daly's Colonsay second and Gold Bell third. Red-fern was fined $200 also. It was said that at least two other jockeys in the race were short of weight, but not enough to warrant official action. Redfern could not explain the tangle, which caused such a long delay before the heisting of the red board that a big crowd gathered about the judges' stand awaiting the verdict.

In addition to scoring with Rostand, the Hampton Stable won the handicap for two-year-olds at six furlongs with Wotan, even money favorite, who picked up 117 pounds, stood the others on their heads and galloped home three lengths before Funny Side, backed down to 8 to 1, the latter nipping the place in the last jump from Race King, the top weight, by a neck.

The form players for some odd reason made John A. Drake's High Chancellor an odds on choice in the third race, for three-year-olds, at six furlongs, while the fleet footed Mamie Worth was allowed to go back in the betting to 2 to 1. The mistake was readily appreciated when Mamie rushed into the lead at a cracking gait and romped home an easy winner by a length and a half in 112 3-5, three-fifths of a second behind the best record for the track. High Chancellor had a cinch on the place, while Futurita headed Merry England, a hot tip, out of third money. hird money.

It was a tight fit for the first race, for maidens, at a mile and a sixteenth, James Galway's Bolina, second choice, getting up in time to beat A. Featherstone's Peeper, the favorite, a short head.

J. G. Follansbee's Daisy Green, the favorite in the fifth event, at a mile and a furlong, was in front from start to finish, being returned an easy winner by two lengths, Tribes Hill, second choice, rushing from nowhere into the place, a head better than James Galway's Brigand, played down to fives. WIND PREVENTS RECORD TRIAL Lou Dillon Trets in Slow Exhibition Mil

-Favorites Win. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 23.—A stiff, cold wind sweeping the Driving Park track pre-vented C. K. G. Billings's Lou Dillon from going against the world's trotting record this afternoon. The speedy mare, however, was sent around the oval for an exhibition mile, but no effort was made to bring out her best speed, and no official time was taken. Spectators caught the time on their stop watches at about 2:17. It was announced by the judges that she would be sent against time to-morrow if weather conditions were favorable The card to-day was a good one, and many spectators were present despite the inclement wealther. Axdelight, the hot favorite in the first event, the 2:16 class trot. had no trouble in disposing of Turley and capturing the purse in straight heats. second event, a 2:20 class trot, for a purse of $2,000, went to Jay McGregor in straight heats, The favorite, Directum Miller, in the 2:25 class pace, was badly defeated in the first heat by Tilly Hal, a long shot, but the favorite took the two following heats with ease. The most exciting finish of the day was in the fourth race, a mile dash pace. Foxic Curd led into the stretch, but was overhauled almost beneath the wire by 'lipper, who won by the barest of noses.

An effort is being made to secure a second trial against time by Dan Patch, the restored pacing king, his performance of yesterday in making the mile in 1:36½ with such apparent ease, leading his admirers to believe that he can still further lower the world's record if suitable weather conditions prevoil.

Several important changes were made in the New York University line-up yesterday. With the appearance of a new candidate for guard named Cohn from the law school, came a shake-up in the centre trio. Cohn weighs over 200 pounds and although yesterday was his first time, he handled himself like a veteran. When signal practice was begun. Coach Wilson moved Chamberlain from right guard to Friedburg's place at centre. Coe from left to right guard and Cohn was put into Coe's place at left guard. Although Chamberlain lacks Friedburg's weight, he makes up for it in aggressiveness. This centre trio is the strongest and fastest that has played this season. The team will leave this morning for Middletown accompanied by a big crowd of rooters. The probable line-up will be as follows: Left end, Connell; left tackle, Reilley; left guard, Coe; right tackle, Callahan; right end, Lowry; quarter back, Hulsart; left half back, Capt. WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Oct. 23.—The Williams eleven left for Syracuse to-day to play the university team. In the original schedule the Williams-West Point game fell on this date. Subsequently it was thought better to substitute the Syracuse game. As Syracuse is this year playing below her 1902 standard, while the Williams men are stronger than the year before, there is the best of prospects for a Berkshire victory. The Syracusans, hewever, desire to lengthen the halves to thirty minutes each and to select both officials. This proposition, it is thought, Coach O'Neill will not agree to. Since the Dartmouth game the eleven has been coached in a different style of defensive play, which was very effective against Tufts. With a dry field Williams's speedy backs can be depended upon for some brilliant end running. On a wet gridiron Watson's punting ability will undoubtedly be brought into play. The greatest improvement manifested in the week's practice and the Tufts game, is the power to put up the strongest defence at the most critical moments. Three times Williams held firm in the Tufts game when the latter was on the Purple's 10-yard line. In all probability the team will take the field with the same line-up as in the Dartmouth game, since Murray, Bixby and Campbell are again rounding into condition. West Point and Dartmouth en Route to Princeton-Quaker Money on Hand. First in importance and interest on to-day's Columbia and Pennsylvania, with the Yale-West Point game a close second. The game at the Polo Grounds will show just how good Columbia is, which previous games have not shown; and it may show just how good Pennsylvania is, for though the Quaker is reckoned the winner of to-day's game, ac-cording to the betting, he may be called on to do his level best, whether he win or lose. Columbia's real strength is somewhat uncertain, and opinions concerning it vary all the way from the belief that the New Yorkers are as good as the best to the belief that they are merely stronger than the second rate elevens. The result to-day will clarify the atmosphere of doubt.

The avoirdupois which Pennsylvania will put on the field to-day is so nearly the same as Columbia's that the teams are practically the same in weight. Penn-

In Wall Street yesterday a few small bets were made in the Broad street curb market at odds of 2 to 1 that Pennsylvania will defeat Columbia in to-day's football game. Frederick Schwed bet $100 to $70 with R. W. Gifford that Pennsylvania will vanquish Harvard in the coming game between those two college teams.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 28.—With the exception of the Yale game, the Tigers expect that to-morrow's contest with Dartmouth will be the hardest on their schedule. The New Hampshire team is said to outweigh the Princeton eleven by about ten pounds to a man. As a steady rain has fallen this afternoon and the indications are that to-morrow will be wet, this advantage in weight will in itself probably be of great value to Dartmouth in a soft field. In view of their hard work to-morrow the Princeton team had a very light practice this afternoon. No game was played, but the men were sent through a rapid practice in going through formations, charging and in receiving punts. The coaches are searching for the strongest centre combination they can get to go against Dartmouth's heavy line, and to-day a shift was made by taking Waller from centre and putting Short in his place. Dillon was put at guard instead of Short. With Dillon, Short and Dewitt for the centre trio, the coaches think they have the strongest combination that could be made with the material available. Behind the line it is probable that Kafer will take Foulke's place at right half, while Miller will continue at full instead of McClave. The Tigers will line up as follows:

Left end, Davis; left tackle, Cooney; left guard, Dillon: centre. Short: ackle candon. calculations of the prophets are all to be In experience and coaching—the latter only as concerns more coaches to impart individual instruction—the Quakers seem to be the better off. free fight, which was resented by the university students.

The first teams of the two colleges were present as spectators of the game and they quickly took a hand in the fight, which waged fast and furious and as a result numerous students and other participants received severe injuries. Right Guard Wallace of Kentucky University was struck over the head with an iron rod in the hands of a State College student and had to be attended by physicians, being six stitches, required to sew up the cut. The fight ceased when Coach Wright of State College called his men from the field.

Bronx Schoolboys Open the Football Season To-day.

The football committee of the Bronx Interscholastic Athletic Association held a meeting yesterday afternoon and perfected arrangements for the opening of the championship series to-day. Six schools have entered for the honors, namely: Manbattan, Bronx. Adler, Fowler, Kimball and Kyles. The schedule calls for a round-robin series. The schedule calls for a round-robin series. Shrubb, the English Runner, Makes New Records. Alfred Shrubb of the South London Hariers for the third time this season has made a successful assault on the record tables. At the autumn meeting of the London A. C., held recently, the slim runner started in the mile-and-a-half handicap and knocked a slice off three British records. He figured on the scratch mark with J. Binks, helder of the English mile record, on the 50-yard mark and about a dozen other crack distance men with starts ranging from 50 to 195 yards.

Shrubb set out on the journey at a splitting account was level with Binks at the 1000-pace and was level with Binks at the 1,000-yard post and for a while the South Lon-doner was paced nicely by the ex-champion so nicely, that he shot by the 2,000-yard mark doner was paced nicely by the ex-champion so nicely, that he shot by the 2,000-yard mark in 5 minutes 7 1-5 seconds. This is a new record, beating the old one of 5 minutes 10 2-5 seconds. At this point he was headed by Judson, who had 140 yards, and Collins, 26 yards, but his time for the mile and a quarter—5 minutes 40 1-5 seconds—also upset the former record. The clock for the mile showed 4 minutes 28 seconds. When the bell sounded for the last lap Collins, who finished second, had a six yard lead, but Shrubb set sail for him, nailed him in the homestretch, and breasted the tape a winner. The official time returned for the mile and a half was 6 minutes 47 3-5 seconds, supplanting the former record of 6 minutes 51 seconds by C. Bennett on the same track—Stamford Bridge—on June 24, 1899. The world's record for this distance is 6 minutes 46 2-5 seconds, by T. P. Conneff at Bergen Point, N. J., on Sept. 2, 1895.

UPSETS IN COLLEGE GOLF.

BOTH THE EGANS BEATEN ON THE GARDEN CITY LINKS.

The Western Champion Loses to Reink and the College Champion Falls Before Chick-Final Round To-day-M. G. A. Team Selected to Meet Philadelphians. H. Chandler Egan, holder of the Intercollegiate Golf Association championship, was put out in the semi-final for that honor yesterday at the Garden City Golf Club by W. C. Chick, 2 up and 1 to play, and, in the other half of the round, F. O. Reinhart beat H. B. McFarland, for two years the runner up, by 3 up and 2 to play. The representatives of Harvard and Princeton will play out the final to-day at thirty-six holes.

The skies were clear in the morning and everything favored low scoring, but a teeming rain bothered the players in the afternoon, especially H. C. Egan and Chick, who started late The best match of the morning and of the tournament was marked by the defeat of Walter E. Egan, champion of the Western Golf Association, by Reinhart, who waged a great uphill fight. A 3 at the third, a stroke under par, made Reinhart I up and it was the only hole not halved to the sixth, where Egan had the match square. He had gone out in 38 and at the tenth the Western champion was 3 up. Then Rein-hart began some wonderful golfing, making the remaining eight holes in 33 strokes, pace too fast for Egan, who lost the match by 1 up. The card was:

H. C. Egan had an easy match with McBur-ney, but McFarland and Chick won only by scant margins, the former beating Truesdal on the home green and Chick winning only on the nineteenth hole from Baker. Th latter had an eighteen-inch put for the match on the home green, but he slipped on it for a half in four. This so rattled the usually imperturbable Princetonian that he pulled into trouble from the tee in starting for the extra hole and Chick won it in 4 to 6.
In the semi-final Reinhart set off in such dashing style with McFarland that he won five of the first six holes. The Pennsylvania of prison in Atlanta. representative then took three straight, but this was the best he could do, for the first four holes of the inward journey were halved. Reinnart broke the deadlock by getting the fourteenth in 3 and he won the match on the sixteenth green. He played out for his score but McFarland sought shelter from the rain. AUTO PATENT WAR BEGINS. Suit Brought Against a Big Maker for Infringing Selden Patent.

The first step in the patent litigation that has for some time been impending in the automobile trade has been taken. After a vote by the Association of Licensed Autoautomobile trade has been taken. After a vote by the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers, composed of twenty-six makers who propose to control the industry, suit has been brought by the Electric Vehicle Company of Hartford and George B. Selden against the Ford Motor Cempany of Detroit and its agents, C. A. Duer & Co. of this city. The Electric Vehicle Company holds the exclusive license rights in the Selden patent that is asserted to cover fundamentally all gasolene automobiles. The licensed association is a pool of makers who pay rovalty on the patent and aim to regulate the industry.

The Ford Motor Company is one of the two largest concerns not in the pool. L. B. Jeffery & Co. of Kenosha, Wis., is the other. The Ford company has been defying the licenses by widely advertising that the Selden patents will not hold and that it will defend its customers in case of suit. The action against the Ford company is for infringement and was instituted in the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York.
